Dominican Rebel Forces Give up Radio Station

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican armed forces agreed Saturday to surrender control of the government radio station to the Organization of American States, removing one issue in the continuing Dominican crisis. The armed forces chiefs remained adamant, however, in their rejection of President Hector Garcia Godoy's plan to transfer 24 top officers of the regular armed forces and the former rebel forces abroad for diplomatic service or training.

Steelworkers Leader Cuts Luxuries

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Steelworkers President J.W. Abel said Saturday he had cut away from a Washington hotel suite, two limousines, a chauffeur, several body guards and three secretaries which he inherited when he took over the union's top office last June. "I want to give you some indication that if we're going to ask directors and staff to live within trade union principles, we ourselves are going to be willing to do it," Abel said. He made the disclosure at a meeting of the Steelworkers District 15, which embraces most of the big steel mills in the Pittsburgh area. Abel was elected president of the union, the nation's third largest, last year in the climax of a bitter power struggle with David J. McDonald, who had been president for 13 years.

Congress Is Facing War Policy Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Congress confronted with the possible escalation of fighting in Viet Nam and the threat of inflation at home convenes for its 1966 session in a solemn mood Monday. President Johnson will keynote the program with a nationally broadcast State of the Union address Wednesday night to a session in which the funding of "Great Society" social reforms will collide with skyrocketing costs of the Southeast Asia conflict. Johnson is expected to dwell at length on Viet Nam peace efforts and the impact of the war on the domestic front.

Co-Pilot, Boy Killed as Plane Crashes

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A C-119 Flying Boxcar crashed Saturday, killing the co-pilot and a 15-year-old boy on board and injuring three others. The Air Force Reserve plane, on a training mission, destroyed the home and set four other houses ablaze as it burst into flames. The pilot of the plane was listed as missing. The body of the co-pilot, Capt. William G. Garber, 37, of Hartford, Conn., was found suspended by his parachute from a tree in a wooded area near the scene. Robert Coates, who was out of the home when the plane crashed, died later of burns. Listed in serious condition were the young man, Robert J. 37, and Martin F. Menolo, 31, of Scranton. The Air Force reported the plane was on a training mission from Bradley Field near Hartford to Birmingham, N.Y., when it crashed along a partially frozen Lake Henry in northeastern Pennsylvania.

Church Seeks OK On Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, meets with Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman today to seek approval of potato labeling legislation. Church introduced such a bill last year. Idaho growers supported the proposal but not the Agriculture Department. The effectiveness of the law is being questioned by some reasons given by the department's opposition and seek to have the law repealed. Church's congressional action seeks reversal of the outcome of his meeting with Freeman.

2,000 Sentry Dogs Are Sent To Guard Military Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. airlines have begun delivering 2,000 sentry dogs needed by the Defense Department to guard American military bases in Viet Nam and elsewhere. Both in searching out the dogs and protecting against attack, the Defense Department doubled the dog-recruiting quota placed at 1,000 last September. The Air Transport Association reported today that many of the dogs are being delivered overseas on earflaps and fuselages of jet freighters carried 19 on one flight. Use of air shipment is pre-

Busload of Skiers Overturns On Curve Near Pomerelle Area

ALBION — A bus loaded with 60 young skiers returning to Rupert from Pomerelle Ski area skidded off an icy curve and overturned at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, but the driver escaped serious injury. The 40-year-old driver, John Cox, Twin Falls, the bus went out of control "from what seemed to be an unseen hand," while approaching an icy spot at about 15 miles per hour. Cox sustained a gust of wind caused the bus to skid. The bus, a 1965 Ford, was traveling eastbound on Highway 20, about 300 feet down the steep, snow-covered bank on its side and slowly rolled over onto its top.

Campus Site Team Makes Second Visit

The College of Southern Idaho site survey team arrived in Twin Falls Friday night to continue studies of possible sites for a CSI campus. The three team members, Dr. Raymond Young, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich., chairman; Harold Eagle, engineer for Morrison-Maierle Associates, Helena, Mont., and E. Gale Solens, president of Lakeside National Bank, Denver, arrived at 7 p.m. and were met by Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, and Robert Blastock Jr., CSI chairman of the Board of Trustees. The survey team met Saturday morning with the board to ask questions that had arisen since their last visit to the area Dec. 7-8.

Burley May Oust Parking Meter System

BURLEY — Removal of all parking meters in Burley was being considered Saturday as the holiday season when plastic covers were placed over all the Burley meters, the system seemed to work out quite well. "Police 'meter mads' chalked three of parked cars and handed out 'parking' tickets for cars parked in the same spot more than two hours, but there was no flooding of meters," said a police officer. New officers of the Downtown Merchants Association, elected Friday, are Keith Stoddard, president, and William Suggs, secretary-treasurer. Outgoing officers are Grant Fillmore, president, and Palmer Saterstrom, secretary-treasurer.

U.S. Troops Start Biggest Operation In Viet Nam War

(See Pictures on Pages 12, 17)
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops have launched their biggest operation of the war in a push near the Communists' iron triangle, it was announced Sunday. For security reasons the Vietnamese high command was not even notified of the operation until the last minute and no Vietnamese government troops took part. The Royal Australian Battalion joined 6 American battalions and 3,000 artillerymen.

State C. of C. Head Calls Tourism 'Key'

Robert B. Day, Twin Falls, newly-elected Idaho State Chamber of Commerce president, Saturday called tourism the key to future state growth. The Amalgamated Sugar Co. executive Friday was chosen state chamber president to succeed Edson H. Deal, Nampa. Re-elected vice-presidents of the organization are Frank Hendrickson, Soda Springs; R. E. Pasley, Caldwell, and C. E. Schwab, Kellogg. Also winning new terms are John M. Dahl, Boise, treasurer, and Hugh A. Wilson-Boise, secretary. "The big thing right now is tourism," Day said. "This is one of the things that will keep Idaho's growth high. The increasing concern in the other areas is bound to boost the tourist trade in the state and give a boost in its economy." Day noted the purchase of Sun Valley by the Jans Corp. as typical of "new blood, new money, that is bound to be beneficial." "The biggest threat to Idaho now is the loss of needed water—both the water we need right now and that we will need for future uses to the Southwest." "The other big thing in my book is that we've got to make productive taxpayers out of people who will be on public assistance in the future if something is not done." Day said. "Development is an educational problem. It's not a state-wide need for programs to be established in other areas who have no socially useful skills. He expressed support for programs established under the coordination of the Idaho Vocational Rehabilitation Service to help the physically handicapped students. Further, Day called the establishment of the College of Southern Idaho as a "major step in the upgrading of Idaho education." The State Chamber of Commerce, founded in 1906, is a state business climate is good, and likely to continue growing. He credited the favorable business climate to the passage of a broad-based sales tax.

Wendell Girl Critical After Auto Mishap

Marilyn Bunker, 18, Wendell, was listed in "critical" condition Saturday night after a head-on collision with a Magic Valley Memorial Hospital after the car, in which she was a passenger, left a curve on Highway 23, three miles east of Tootle. The accident occurred at 12:45 a.m. The driver, Gary West, 21, Wendell, apparently lost control of the car, as he was driving west toward Tootle on Highway 23. The car went off the shoulder of the road, rolled several times and came to rest upside-down. The automobile narrowly avoided plummeting into the Malad River. Miss Bunker was the only one of the six Wendell occupants listed as "critical." Wendell, the driver, was admitted to the Gooding Memorial Hospital with injuries of undetermined extent. The conditions of West and Miss Bunker were not available from the Gooding hospital. The three remaining passengers, San Soares, 21, Burley; V. M. Hill, 18, Wendell; and Robert Stockham, 18, Wendell, were admitted to Gooding Memorial Hospital for treatment of minor cuts and bruises and were released. The 1965 four-door Ford Falcon was demolished. Witnesses reported Miss Bunker was the only passenger unharmed by the crash. She was taken from the wreckage by ambulance to the Gooding Memorial Hospital for treatment of minor cuts and bruises and was released. Investigation of the accident is continuing.

300 March In Downtown Tuskegee

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — About 300 students, hand-clapping and singing, marched into downtown Tuskegee Saturday, blocked a sidewalk on the corner of 7th and left all about an hour. The demonstrators, mostly Negroes, sat down on the sidewalk and began to sing around to keep warm because of a cold wind. The temperature hovered above freezing. Groups of Negroes watched the demonstrators, but few whites were seen on the square in this predominantly Negro town of 7,000. Police remained in their cars. "While Rick's a member of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, he's not a leader. This is your fight. We need everybody. We've got to stop this killing." He urged a group of Negroes to join the demonstrators, and they did. It was the fourth march since January 6, 1965, at Tuskegee Institute student was killed Monday.

Economy May Be Voting Issue

BOISE (AP) — Idaho's booming economy could join the sales tax as an issue in the 1968 election. Gov. Robert E. Smylie pointed last week to 1968 records in agriculture, manufacturing, logging growth and personal income and said every index indicates "it will be better." "It would be dangerous," Smylie added in a hint he might run for a fourth term as governor. "I trust the economic awakening to poor management." Smylie has been one of the

Cardinal Is Barred by Government

WARSAW, Poland, (AP)—Sien Cardinal Wyszyński was reported Saturday to have been barred by the government from leaving Poland on the eve of his departure for the Vatican.

The spiritual leader of Polish Roman Catholics had planned to leave Sunday for Rome, presumably to report to Pope Paul VI on deteriorating church-state relations and growing obstacles to a papal visit to Poland later this year.

Polish Catholic sources said that when the cardinal left the Vatican, the Vatican Council last month he had instructions to start negotiations for a papal visit next May during the 1,000th anniversary of Christianity in Poland.

But informed Warsaw sources said the church was notified Friday by the premier's office that the prime minister's diplomatic passport to travel abroad had been withdrawn on grounds he had engaged in political activities harmful to the state on his last trip to Rome.

Cardinal Wyszyński and the Polish bishops in Rome last month sent a letter to the bishops of West Germany asking them to join the millennium celebrations and to work for Polish-German reconciliation. The Communist government reacted with a storm of angry press attacks, accusing churchmen of meddling in foreign policy.

If the travel ban is continued, it would also keep the cardinal from making a planned trip to the United States and Canada next August to participate in Polish anniversary celebrations there.

The cardinal had been in Rome 11 times since October 1956, when the Communists freed him from three years of house arrest.

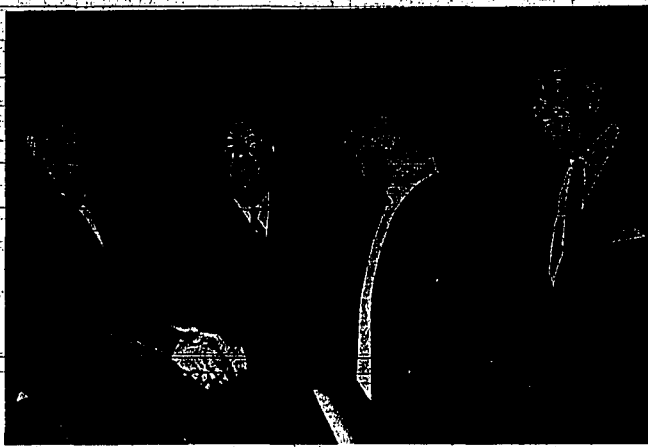

His office had treated the planned Vatican trip as a secret, but other sources said he was to leave Sunday by train. On his schedule, they said, was a modest celebration of the millennium with the Pope.

In Vatican City, reports of the travel ban hit like a bombshell. The Vatican had no official comment, however.

Woman Is Held On Check Count

Margaret Coleman, 65, Twin Falls, was arraigned in Twin Falls Police Court Friday on charges of issuing a check without funds, and was bound over to District court for trial. Mrs. Coleman waived preliminary hearing.

Mrs. Coleman is accused of cashing a $20 no fund check at Buttery's supermarket. She was transferred to the County Jail in lieu of $500 bond.

Filing of Military Personnel Military Pay in Combat Zones Is Nontaxable

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Special Writer

Can you imagine this scene between two GIs fighting their way out of an ambush in Viet Nam?

"Hey, Joe, you hear the news?" hollers one machinegunner to another. "LBJ says we don't have to pay a tax on the pay we get for this."

It's true. By designating Viet Nam as a combat zone, the President made military pay earned there by U.S. personnel exempt from tax.

For enlisted men the exemption applies to the full pay for each month earned in a combat zone. Any part of a month is considered a full month. A serviceman who arrived in Viet Nam on the 25th of a month eliminates from his return the full pay earned for that month. The exclusion remains in effect so long as he continues to serve in the area.

If the enlisted man is hospitalized as a result of such service, the exclusion applies to all pay received in the hospital, again with any part of a month counting as a full month.

For officers in combat zones or hospitalized as a result of such service, the first $200 received monthly is tax-exempt.

While military personnel pay a tax on all regular and longevity pay, subsistence, uniform and quarters allowances are tax-exempt.

They have the same April 15 filing deadline as civilians but if they are out of the country on that date, they receive an automatic two-month extension for filing. Those serving in Viet Nam have until 180 days after they leave Viet Nam to file their returns.

Taxable military pay includes the following:

- Pay received on active duty or while attending armed services academies.
- Lump sum payments upon service separation.
- Re-enlistment bonus.
- ROTC pay.
- Reserve training pay.
- Longevity pay.

Nontaxable military and veterans' pay includes:

- Payments equal to six months pay to beneficiaries of servicemen who died on active duty.
- Veterans' benefits paid by the Veterans Administration to veterans and their families.
- Education, training and subsistence allowances to veterans.
- Disability compensation.
- Veterans' insurance proceeds and dividends (but interest earned on the dividends left with VA is taxable).
- Veterans' bonuses paid by states.
- Subsistence, uniform and quarters allowances.
- Grants to seriously disabled veterans for homes designed for "wheelchair living."
- Grants for motor vehicles to veterans who lost their right or use of their limbs.

(NEXT: Sick pay allowances.)

Panel in T.F. to Discuss War on Poverty

Twin Falls residents are invited to hear a panel discussion on federal government programs connected with the War on Poverty at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Idaho Power Auditorium.

The League of Women Voters of Twin Falls is sponsoring the public meeting as part of its study of the national program for the War on Poverty. The program is designed to provide for all persons equality of opportunity for education and employment.

Mrs. Robert Nelson, League president, pointed out Saturday this will be one of the first opportunities for local persons to hear first hand about the Job Corps camp at Mountain Home.

Richard Barnes, counselor at the Mountain Home Job Corps Center, will be one of the panelists.

Lodge Visited
RICHFIELD — The official visit of Charles Pendleton, district deputy, marked the January meeting of the Richfield Masonic Lodge Thursday evening.
Other guests included Ben Walker, Shoshone lodge master; William L. Towne Jr. and J. Peterson, District Foreman. Armstrong, newly installed master, conducted the meeting and served as host.

Center will present some of the human aspects of life at the Mountain Home camp.

Other panelists will be C. A. Chaktrand, Boise, Manpower Development Training Act coordinator for the Idaho Department of Employment, and Arvel Stafford, Idaho director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, both Boise.
Local interest will be provided by J. T. Anderson, Twin Falls School District business coordinator, who will outline possible and existing programs under the Federal Elementary Education Act of 1965.
Invitations have been sent to school personnel, community leaders and all League contributors. And Mrs. Nelson stressed the public is invited.

Refreshments will be served after the panel.

Club Meets
BUHL — A humorous recording by a well known psychiatrist was featured at the Buhl Rotary Club luncheon meeting Thursday noon in the R and R Cafe.
The program was under the direction of Edward Novacek, chairman. Guests included Dr. F. A. Kalluay, Delbert Alexander, and Buhl High School seniors, Gary Gabardi, Kelly Grimm and Deryl Garen.

Film Producer Hurt in Dispute

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood producer Otto Preminger received a bloody gash on his head Friday night during an argument in the plush 21 Club.
The Austrian-born Preminger, who produced such films as "Exodus," "St. Joan," "Advise and Consent" and "The Cardinal," was taken to New York Hospital for treatment of a cut.
None of the principals would discuss the incident Saturday, but the Journal-American reported Hollywood literary agent Irving Lazer bopped him with a glass during an argument over movie rights to Truman Ca-

APPOINT COMMITTEE

BOISE (AP) — The professional standards board for teachers education and certification has closed its two-day meeting by appointing an ad hoc committee to review early childhood education.

Committee reports for possible recommendations to the State Board of Education were heard. They included certification of librarians and kindergarten teachers, the National Teacher Corps and other topics.

Ad hoc committee members named were E. V. Samuelson, College of Education dean at the University of Idaho; Mrs. Lucy Daines, State Trustees Assn.; Donovan Douglas, Idaho Education Association; Mrs. Alice Walker, state board; and Miss Ruth Marks, elementary consultant for reading and English for the education department.

HEARINGS POSTPONED

POCATELLO (AP) — Municipal court hearings have been postponed for two men named in assault complaints by State Sen. Perry Swisher, R-Bamuck.

The hearing was held over Friday because the attorney for Dale Rupp and Ray Foster, Robert C. Bennett, said he had business in American Falls.

Rupp and Foster are charged with assault and battery in connection with an alleged assault on Swisher and a companion Nov. 22 in Pocatello.

DOCKET ANNOUNCED

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Supreme Court has announced it will hear cases in Boise next week.

One involves an appeal by C. H. Leavelle and another by the Union-Kendall Co. against Grapes and Associates, Inc., on a sub-contract to build portions of a Mendenhall mobile installation at Magna, Utah.

DEMANDS NOTED

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — Wage increases, a longer workday and a seventh holiday will be major demands of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 1700, in negotiations with Northwest Lumber-Firms Inc. in Arco, TWA officials said Friday.

Delbert Guvnauld, Portland, vice president of the regional council 8, met with local union officials to discuss the negotiations.

Current three-year contracts expire June 1.

CABLES BURNED

BOISE (AP) — A Garden City electrical repair shop first burned through telephone cables and knocked out more than 100 telephones Saturday.

The shop, filled with used television sets and other appliances, was completely destroyed but firemen prevented more than minor damage to nearby businesses. There were no injuries.

Carl Bailey, district manager of Mountain States Telephone Co., said the fire melted two 100-volt cables, each serving 50 to 75 Garden City telephones. He expected the break to be repaired late Saturday.

GAIN IMPORTANCE

BOISE (AP) — Taxpayers as socialist in 38 states are gaining new importance with the federal programs, the executive manager of the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho said today.

The manager, Max Yost, said the association's role is to keep local taxpayers informed. With increasing amounts of public money being spent, said, constructive citizen participation becomes more in obtaining maximum benefit for the dollars spent.

CANDIDATES EXPECTED

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nine candidates will arrive Sunday to begin three days of competition to pick Idaho's Junior Miss.

The contest is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce with the national winner to be picked in Mobile, Ala.

GROWTH PREDICTED

POCATELLO (AP) — Open space will bring growth and prosperity to the intermountain area, Robert P. Gerholz, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, predicted Friday night.

Gerholz spoke before nearly 800 persons at the 63rd annual dinner of the Pocatello Chamber of Commerce.

Gerholz urged his audience to prepare now for "a rush to the wide open spaces" from population booms and mass migration to cities from newly mechanized farms.

VANDALISM TOLD

POCATELLO (UPI) — Vandals inflicted more than $2,000 damage to automobile windows and a picture window in a residence on Friday night, City Detective R. L. Fackrell said Saturday.

Fackrell appealed to the public to help catch those responsible for the vandalism, saying owners seldom see the persons who do such things.

ALUMNI MEET

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — University of Idaho leaders met here last night to begin plans on a bond-rating campaign scheduled to raise an estimated $700,000 within the next two years.

The plan is to be used for the construction of a center for the performing arts on the Moscow campus.

University President Dr. Ernest Hartung told the alumni board that there is "an immediate need to raise an estimated $700,000 within the next two years."

The plan is to be used for the construction of a center for the performing arts on the Moscow campus.

AUTHOR TO SPEAK

MOSCOW (UPI) — Vance Packard, author of "The Hidden Persuaders," will speak Monday at the University of Idaho.

His talk is a part of the publication series at the university.

FOUND GUILTY

BOISE (AP) — Harold Dean Halseith was found guilty of interstate transport of a stolen car in a U. S. District Court case Friday.

His case was continued to Jan. 24 pending a presentence investigation.

Halseith was accused of bringing a stolen car from Kennewick, Wash., to Boise, Idaho.

Finance Units to Be Civil Rights Target

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says that financial institutions will be prime targets in a massive civil rights campaign he plans to bring to Chicago.

King, winner of the Nobel Peace prize, announced Friday the opening of a drive he called the "first significant Northern freedom movement ever attempted by major civil rights forces."

King said banks, loan companies, mortgage companies and insurance firms are high on the list of "massive action" targets in the city. Financial institutions were one of 12 problem areas sketched by King.

King accused some money handling institutions of charging higher interest rates to Negroes than to whites. He said many refused to finance real estate transactions in slum and transitional communities where Negroes live.

The Rev. James Bevel, direct action leader of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference said a "black island" has been deliberately created in Chicago by the Chicago Real Estate Board, banks, and saving and loan institutions.

Both King and Bevel said their words were the prelude to a three-step action program they hoped would result in the mobilization of 100,000 unemployed Negroes ready to demonstrate, "whenever the occasion seems tactically important."

Such occasions, said a spokesman for Al Raby, convener of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, would be allowed to "ferment" from the ranks of the mass organization he hopes will be formed in the next two months.

King said gangs were a potential source of available civil rights manpower.

Raby's group, which invited King's organization to Chicago, said it would work with no estimated 50 organizers brought from the South to form a "strongly mobilized, tightly organized" civil rights force in the city.

King said demonstrations will begin March 1.

Action against city, state and federal agencies will get underway May 1.

King said he would direct the campaign personally from a slum apartment on the city's West Side.

Efforts will be made, King said, to involve every minister in the city.

3 Mountain Climbers Are Found Safe

MT. SHASTA, Calif. (AP)

Three mountain climbers emerged unscathed and heavy from a blizzard which stranded them for nine days on one of the nation's highest peaks and asked, "Why all the fuss?"

"They loved it. They thought it was great," Siskiyou County Sheriff Al Cottar said Friday after the climbers hiked to safety down a drift-closed highway. Cottar said the climbers built a snow hut, ate hearty meals from ample provisions and never considered themselves in trouble as 10-mile-an-hour winds raked their campsite high on 14,181-foot Mt. Shasta.

When the weather broke, they made their way back to civilization on snowshoes and skis—and seemed in better shape than the rescue party, which had been trying several days to find them.

Cottar identified the climbers as Leslie Wilson, 34, and John Crowley, 22, both of Berkeley, Calif., and Frank Diener, 20, of San Francisco. He said they are members of the Sierra Club, an outing and conservation group.

The climbers started up the northwest slope of the mountain Dec. 30. A blizzard stopped them at the 12,500-foot level, 3,500 feet above the timberline.

Explorer's Son to Retrace Father's Steps

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (UPI)—Scott of the Antarctic—Robert Falcon Scott—died here from starvation and exposure on the return journey from the South Pole in the spring of 1912.

His explorer son Peter, 56, arrived at Christchurch Thursday on his first trip to the area where his father wrote one of the great epics of human effort.

But Peter Scott brushed aside suggestions that this was a sentimental journey. He is traveling with the natural history unit of the British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) to make a television documentary on the Antarctic.

Scott said he had in the past been deliberately avoiding the Antarctic since he had no desire to retrace his father's footsteps.

"For years my ambition has been to take part in activities that were not connected with the polar regions," he said. "But when this trip was suggested by the BBC I decided this vanity could no longer continue."

Contribute

STOUCHE CITY, Iowa (AP)—Six hundred students at North Junior High School here have contributed a dime each to finance a billboard expressing appreciation for American servicemen.

The full-size billboard has a replica of the American flag as the background. Over one of the stripes is the message: "American Servicemen: We Appreciate You."

Each student contributing a dime received the privilege of writing his name at the flag's edge. The students hope to have the design used for a U. S. postage stamp.

"Naturally I am interested in parts of the Antarctic which concerned my father. But the objective of this visit is to show viewers what life was like in the Antarctic in the past and what is happening now."

Scott will leave for McMurdo Sound in the Antarctic by air Jan. 12 and will stay long enough to make a 60-minute documentary which producer A. C. Ralling says will not be "too corny" about its obvious connection with the expedition of the other Scott—Scott of the Antarctic.

Jeweler Had Good Time— And Accurate

CHANDLER, Ariz. (AP)—They used to come into Alois Novak's jewelry shop and complain about the watches he repaired.

"No more."

Novak found out his watch work was still good in was the town clock people used to check their timepieces by that was at fault.

So that day in 1940 Novak did something about it.

For 25 years now, six days a week, Novak has walked into the Chandler Fire Department to handle what he considers the important—but unpaid—task of sounding the noon siren.

Each day he has checked his own gold watch to make sure it has the exact time.

Now, at the age of 77, Chandler's conscientious clock-watcher has been given a timely honor.

The mayor proclaimed "Alois Novak Day" and presented him with a framed scroll.

First Airlifted Refugees Are Scattered in 34 States

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The first Cubans flown here in the massive "refugee" airlift operation began Dec. 1 have scattered to 34 states. The refugees are landing here at the rate of 800 weekly as the migration—negotiated by the United States and Fidel Castro's forces—government proceeds normally. The twice-daily 180-mile sky ferries from Varadero Beach, once a tourist spot, could continue for years.

The Cuban-refugee center reported that 44 per cent of the 4,149 exiles flown in stayed in Miami. This city's Cuban colony is estimated at 100,000.

New York City's Cuban population increased by 613 refugees flown from here in December. Other cities drawing more than 100 were Newark, N.J., 425; Los Angeles, 300; Chicago, 142.

At Freedom House the Miami departure point, refugees tell of mostly the same story about life in Cuba—increasing food shortages, increasing vigilance by forces, increasing violence by Castro agents, indoctrination of children in Communism, health problems due to a medicine shortage. They also tell of being drafted into the armed forces and barred from the airlift.

The "airlifts" appear to represent a reasonable cross-section of Cuba's seven million people, except for absence of middle youth—14 to 21—detained for military service, and a scarcity of professional men, needed at home.

The refugee center said 36 per cent of the arrivals have been between 18 and 35; 31 per cent up to 17 years; 28 per cent, 46 to 64; 5 per cent over 65.

Twelve per cent of the refugees had clerical or sales jobs in Cuba, and 10 per cent, professions.

2 Killed in Spectacular Auto Crash

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A man and woman were killed Saturday in a spectacular auto collision near the Civic Center in downtown San Francisco.

Other occupants of the cars were thrown to the pavement. The dead were Virginia Gillard, 30, of San Francisco and Richard Barlow, 25, of Ogden, Utah, passengers in separate cars.

The Buick car spun 180 feet after the collision, crashed into a cocktail lounge and landed on top of Barlow.

The driver, Maria L. Callaghan, 27, of San Francisco, suffered head cuts.

Mina Gillard was in a Buick driven by Peter T. Byczek, 23, San Francisco. He suffered a fractured skull.

Diplomatic Aide Speaks At Heyburn

HEYBURN—Gordon Powers, third secretary of the Diplomatic corps, Department of State, Washington, D.C., was guest speaker during the Heyburn PFA meeting Thursday evening.

He recently completed an assignment with the foreign service at Amman, Jordan, and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Powers, Burley, before starting a new duty with the embassy at Hong Kong.

He pointed out that most of the Holy Land is located in Jordan and he showed color slides of various points of interest. He said the greatest economy there is received from tourists viewing historical remains before and during the life of Christ.

"Jordan mostly consists of a series of rock upon layer of rock," he said. "The people there have little means to preserve the valuable remains and many discoveries uncovered later are re-covered by soil or rock to help preserve them from nature."

He said that men are accepted for the foreign service department only after special tests have been taken concerning their health, education, character and personality. He pointed out that honesty is a great factor in selecting officers, especially if someone actually knows what they are talking about or just "bluff" their way through a conversation.

His assignment at Hong Kong will include the issuing of visas to persons interested in coming to the U.S. (Dick Whittaker, president, conducted the business meeting, and Mrs. Verlon Sutton, program chairman, was in charge of the program.)

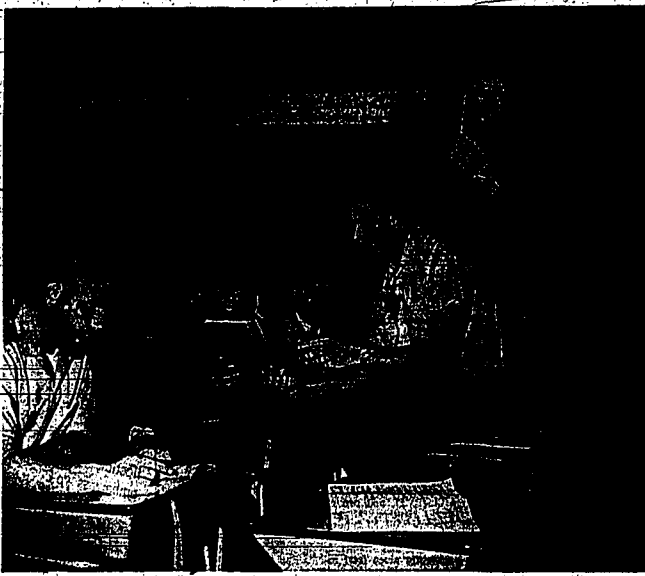

Mrs. Earl Peterson's third grade won a reading book for having the most parents at the meeting.

Beauty College Director Named

Addison B. Parker has been named the new director of the Hollywood Beauty College. Parker has been a resident of Twin Falls since his discharge from the United States Navy in 1946 and formerly was a resident of Jackson, Miss.

Parker, a hair-stylist for the past 20 years, has been with the Hollywood Beauty College for the past year. He has been a state beauty examiner and was chairman of the State Policy Board for Hair Dressing. He also was an officer in the state cosmetologists association.

Parker is married and the father of one son and one daughter.

OVER-AGED STUDENTS in under-sized desks? No, this is just one of many chorus rehearsals which will take place before the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley presents "The Music Man" in March. "Teacher" is Mrs. Robert Blastock Jr., Filer, who is chorus-director for this year's production. Her avid

Rerearsals Under Way for Production of 'Music Man'

One week of rehearsals is over and there are nearly nine more to look forward to before March 9 when the Dilettante Group of Magic Valley presents the first performance of Meredith Willson's "The Music Man."

This is the enviable task in store for more than 100 members of this all-Magic-Valley group who present a top musical comedy each March.

The group is composed of amateur, semi-amateur, retired and professional musicians and actors who enjoy preparing for the yearly performances as much as the public enjoys the eventual outcome of their efforts.

This year 32 voices, some possessed by aspiring musicians who are unable to read music, are being blended together by Mrs. Robert (Gertie) Blastock Jr., Filer, to sing the colorful score of "The Music Man."

For Mrs. Blastock this is not a new chore, but an intriguing one. She has appeared in several Dilettante productions and was chorus director for "Kiss Me Kate."

She was one of the lead players in the group's first production, "Carousel," and played "Meg" in "Brigadoon," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Kiss Me Kate" and "Can-Can" are weeks of rehearsals, prove on-

among the productions in which she has sung.

Music was her major field of study at college and she has continued to study, attending music camp at Sun Valley for two summers. She teaches piano students in her home at Filer and also at her studio in Wendell. Besides all these activities, she manages to run an orderly household, which includes five youngsters.

As anyone who has attended past Dilettante productions can attest to, although many voices in the chorus are untrained, opening night that all are talented. Many chorus members have other parts in the show, but the voices are needed for both.

Some part of the group is in rehearsal nearly every night of the week at Washington School and will continue until opening night. Dates for the show this year will run a straight week, Wednesday through Tuesday, beginning March 9 and running through March 15. The March 15 show will be a Sunday matinee performance.

This production schedule varies from past ones in that older years the show has run only on week-ends. Mrs. Thomas (Betty) Gault, publicity director, states opening date for ticket sales will be announced.

This year's chorus are several husband and wife teams, including Mr. and Mrs. Henry Willis; Mr. and Mrs. John DeWitt; Dr. and Mrs. Harry Brumback; all Twin Falls; and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Reed; Filer. Female chorus members include Mrs. Lucien Laferriere; Mrs. Charles Parenteau; Mrs. Delbert Cason; Terri Driscoll; Mrs. Larry Hovey; Mrs. Donald Robbins and Jeannie Carter; all Twin Falls; Mrs. Roger Forgy and Mrs. Robert Kyle; both Buhl; Mrs. Alan Pierce, Castleford; and Mrs. Henry Wessendorf, Filer.

Plans for Miss Twin Falls Pageant Get Under Way With Special Kickoff Social at Country Club

By NORMA HERZINGER

What mother hasn't remarked at one time or another that her baby daughter was lovely enough to one day be a Miss America? What a thrill this would be for the young lady as well as her family and friends.

The opportunity is well at hand in our area and all young women interested in participating in the local pageant, which could send them toward the Miss America spotlight, are asked to jump on the bandwagon and make themselves known.

To get the ball rolling and introduce the girls, as well as their parents, to contest rules and the opportunities of competing for some very worthwhile awards, a "Pepsi" Party was held at the Blue Lakes Country Club.

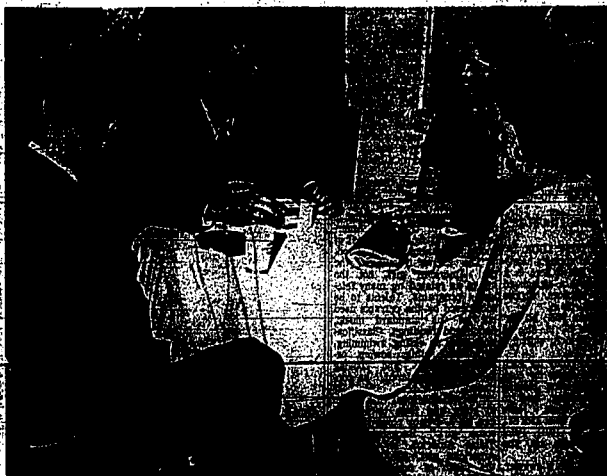

Jack Levander, Twin Falls Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., and his wife were hosts for the event, assisted by members of the Twin Falls Lions Club, which sponsors the Miss Twin Falls Pageant.

Levander welcomed the girls and their parents and expressed his pleasure in being a part of a rewarding event. He stated that he has personally met every Miss America chosen the past 15 years due to his affiliation with the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., one of the main sponsors of the famous pageant.

"When a girl receives a pageant crown, before her an exciting year of fun, glamor and responsibility, representing the Ideal American girl. This is a comment made by Gordon Beckstead, pageant director, as he 'emceed' the 'Pepsi' Party.

Guest speakers were Mrs. Roger Vincent, Idaho; Cheryl Couch, Miss Twin Falls; Mrs. Henderson, advisor to the Miss Twin Falls Committee, and Dwayne Knigge, first coordinator of the pageant committee.

Mrs. Vincent told how she as a parent wished her daughters to participate in a local pageant. (Continued on Page 14, Col. 1)

EXPLAINING the opportunities awaiting a Miss Twin Falls winner is Gordon Beckstead, center, pageant director, to Donald Zuck, third coordinator; Mrs. Roger Vincent, Mrs. Idaho; and Mrs. Zuck. Mrs. Vincent was a featured speaker at the recent social at the Blue Lakes Country Club. (Times-News photo)

Plans for Local Pageant Under Way With Social

but for the success of each and every girl.

Mrs. Henderson has been instrumental in promoting the Miss Idaho Pageants and has had the honor of being chapter one to Atlantic City for two Miss Idaho winners: Tamara Ashby, Miss Idaho of 1959, and Irene May Ammons, Miss Idaho of 1962.

Many of the girls do not enter the local pageant because they feel they lack sufficient clothing and finances necessary for competition. This, as many realize, can be a drawback for any young girl. Mrs. Henderson stated any girl interested in becoming a contestant for the Miss Twin Falls Pageant need not be overly concerned about the necessary clothing, as she and members of the Twin Falls Lions Club will assist in obtaining the articles needed for her wardrobe.

Knigge explained to the girls and their parents why the Lions Club sponsors the event and how the profits from the pageant are used to help with the Lions Club civic projects, especially the Lions Club Eye Sight Fund.

Usually the Miss Twin Falls Pageant has been held in December and the winner competes in June for Miss Idaho. This meant the young women only had a few months to prepare for the big night. The rules have been changed and Miss Twin Falls will be elected in June, allowing the winner to have one year before competing for Miss Idaho. She will be chosen approximately one week prior to the Miss Idaho Pageant, ending her term to observe rather than compete in one pageant, become acquainted with the making of a pageant, then the entire year for needed preparations.

Young women interested in becoming contestants for the Miss Twin Falls Pageant are asked to sign a contract merely stating that they will be a contestant. If a winner will represent Twin Falls County and the Twin Falls Lions Club in the Miss Idaho Pageant.

A girl is not expected to have a sponsor prior to her entry in the contest, as thought by many. After the agreement to participate in the contest, the Lions Club arranges for a sponsor for each and every girl.

During an interview with Beckstead, he stated that although the three main categories of the pageant are talent, evening gown and swim suit, it is not primarily a beauty pageant and should not be considered as such.

"It is not enough that the girl has tremendous talent. It is not enough that she have beauty; the thing we are looking for is the image of the ideal American girl and American ideal of young womanhood," he stated.

The winner should be the real American girl, not the image as related on many television programs. Talents to be considered by the entrants need not be the standard music, dance and readings. Classifications such as singing, swimming, horseback riding, sewing, etc., says, speeches and cooking should be considered," he continued.

"To win the local title, go on to state and then to national can be a dream come true for some girl," Beckstead said.

"Miss America is the ideal American girl. She symbolizes the youth of our nation and their dreams, ambitions and ideals. She is the girl who will represent her country for a year as she travels the length and breadth of her own nation and to many foreign lands," he concluded.

Pageant committee members for Twin Falls are Beckstead, pageant director; Earl Pike, assistant director; Knigge, first coordinator; Norman Darling, second coordinator; Donald Cuck, third coordinator, and Dale Hensman, entrants chairman. All members of the Lions Club will be assisting with the event, with the full support of Paul Bull, Lions Club president.

Following the "Pepsi" Party program, Mr. and Mrs. Levanter served doughnuts and Pepsi. It is hoped that the event will become an annual party sponsored by Levanter and C. H. Swope of the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co.

The date set for the Miss Twin Falls Pageant is June 18.

Valley Couple Is Honored

SHOSHONE — A farewell party for Rev. and Mrs. John Shaw was held at the American Legion Hall. They are moving to Arcata, Calif., where he will serve as assistant pastor and build a new church.

Rev. Mr. Shaw has been pastor of the local Assembly of God Church here for the past seven years.

At the farewell party, musical numbers were presented by Frank Lane, harmonica; Mrs. Frank Lane, vocal solo, and Rev. Mr. Shaw, piano, solo. The children's group sang.

A tape was made of the service and friends present spoke their expressions of gratitude to Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw for their services. Refreshments were served by church members.

Louise Watson Is Bride of Dale Sorenson

The Harrison LDS Church, Twin Falls, was the setting for the Nov. 28 ceremony uniting in marriage Louise Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Watson, and Dale Sorenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sorenson, all Twin Falls.

Bishop Douglas Brown performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white carnations and pink roses. Paul McDonald was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white lace over-silk gown fashioned with a fitted bodice enhanced with pearls, a scalloped neckline and lily point sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held by a tiara accented with pearls. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of pink roses enhanced with pink show-er ribbons.

The bride wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom, and a bracelet of blue stones, a gift from her mother. Adele Hepworth, friend of the bride, was honor attendant. Kathy McInroy and Sandi Snow were bridesmaids and Debbie Hartley was flower girl.

Jerry McCallister was best man. Ushers included Ron Stewart, Jerry Sorenson, James Watson and Robert Scott.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony. Guests were registered by Patty Jenkins, Edna Ellis, Edna O'Dell and Linda Iyer were in charge of the gift table.

The bride's table was covered with white linen and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with white sugar-bells and pink roses. Two bell-shaped

Ilene Merrill, Serr Marry in LDS Ceremony

PAUL—Ilene Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith C. Merrill Jr., and Daryl Serr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Serr, all Paul, were united in marriage Dec. 31 at the Emerson LDS Ward Chapel.

Vows were exchanged in a double ring exchange ceremony performed by Bishop Alton Hageman. Red and white arched decorations formed the background setting.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length wedding gown of white satin, featuring elbow-length sleeves, a rounded neckline and a straight skirt with an applique lace panel enhanced with a chapel train. The wedding gown was fashioned and designed by the bride and made by her mother.

Her elbow-length veil of illusion was held by a white satin tiara enhanced with applique lace. She carried an arrangement of white orchids adorned with white satin streamers.

Key Wood, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Connie Mecham, Rae Dean Arthur and Nicki Nield.

Tamara Haskell and Paula Wood, nieces of the bride, were flower girls and Guy Haskell, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Dallas Serr, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Wayne Wood, Brad Nelson, Ronald Smith, William March, Ronald Nakano and Ronald Mingo.

Robert Hamilton played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Phil Wightman, soloist.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds greeted guests before an archway decorated with holly and wedding bells, flanked by Christmas trees and baskets of poinsettias and white chrysanthemums.

The bride's table was covered with a red cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with red roses and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Refreshments were served by members of the Emerson LDS Ward Relief Society.

Janel Burke, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests. Gifts were displayed by Linda Haskell, Judy Merrill, Kristine Dayton and Janice Doure.

The couple took a wedding trip to California.

A pre-nuptial shower was hosted for the bride by roommates and friends at Rick's College.

Guests attended from Boise, Buhl, Twin Falls, Melba, Bountiful, Utah, and Mesa, Ariz.

Favored Cowboys Wonder If Colts' Matte Will Run Or Pass in Playoff Bowl

MIAMI (AP)—Will Tom Matte pass or run? That's the question that will be bugging the Dallas Cowboys when they square off against the Baltimore Colts here Sunday in the National Football League's Playoff Bowl involving conference runners-up. The Colts, who lost quarterback Johnny Unitas and Gary Cuzzo in the final two weeks of the season, are 3 1/2-point underdogs to a fast-moving Dallas team that won five of its last seven games.

Best of East, West Clash in NBA Game

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—No coach ever would have worried about his job if he always had a team such as either of those that will clash here Tuesday night in the 16th annual National Basketball Association All-Star game. The game will match the best of the Eastern Division, the Cincinnati Gardens virtually is sold out for this dream game and standing room tickets may be sold.

Rockland's Late Flurry Nips Devils

ROCKLAND—Greg Maye hit two field goals in the closing minutes to help the Rockland Bulldogs beat Murrumbidgee Devils 52-49 Friday night. Murrumbidgee, getting 16 points from Ron Anderson, jumped into an early lead and although tied once, held sway until two minutes remained. Then Rockland's Maye unloaded his two clutch field goals. George Uye followed with a free throw that tied the game.

Rockland's Maye, a year's most valuable All-Star game player, and John Hawick of the Bulldogs will hold down the forward positions with Cincinnati's great Oscar Robertson and Boston's Sam Jones in the backcourt. Murrumbidgee has a problem at the pivot position—either Bill Russell of Boston or Walt Chamberlain of Philadelphia. One sideline coach remarked, "Walt's problem."

Bulldogs Use Big Third to Trim Trojans

KIMBERLY—Kimberly overcame Wendell 25-8 in the third quarter Saturday night, while Larry Eller accounted for 12 of his 24 points, and the Bulldogs went from there to a 77-41 rout over the taller Trojans. Wendell had Kimberly down 42-20 at the half, but the Bulldogs came back in the third quarter with a 15-10 run, and shooting a remarkable percentage while holding the Trojans to eight points.

In the fourth Wendell scored 21 points, but could not close the gap. Eller, Jim Denton and Larry Eller led the Bulldogs victory, while Larry Eller paced the team to 22 points in that quarter.

Wendell's 25-8 lead in the third quarter was trimmed to 25-22 at the half. Eller, Jim Denton and Larry Eller led the Bulldogs victory, while Larry Eller paced the team to 22 points in that quarter.

Wendell Has 62-44 Win Over Hailey

WENDELL—With three men hitting in double figures, the Wendell Trojans bombed Wood River 62-44 in the first quarter Saturday night, and went on to claim a 52-41 Little Six Conference decision Friday night.

Wendell had three men scoring 12 points or more but Wendell put nine men into the scoring column against five for the Trojans.

Wendell's 62-44 win over Hailey was a 15-10 run, and shooting a remarkable percentage while holding the Trojans to eight points.

California Slips Past WSU 71-70

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—California, using speed and the swift, deadly shooting of Sophomore Russ Critchfield, overcame past Washington State 71-70 in a Pacific Athletic Conference basketball game Saturday.

The Cougars led 36-35 at half-time and tied it three times in the second half, with the last deadlock coming on Dennis Kioke's three-point play with 2:44 left.

Critchfield was the top scorer for Cal with 24 points.

Spartans Use Foul Line to Defeat Bees

RUPERT (AP)—Minico shot less than 20 per cent from the foul line but 70 per cent from the foul line Friday night in beating the Bonneville Bees 50-41 in an Eastern Idaho Conference opener.

Minico managed only 24 points from the field but added 26 more from the foul line. The Bees proved equally cold and fell far enough behind to let Coach Les Roh play his bench in the final minutes.

Bonneville led only momentarily after some early feuding that lasted into the first couple of minutes of the second quarter.

SOUTH CLAIMS 27-18 SENIOR BOWL WIN

North's Defense Can't Save 18-7 Halftime Margin

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The South wiped out an 11-point deficit by blending the running of Bob Burnett with the passing of Randy Johnson and defeated the North 27-18 in the Senior Bowl football game Saturday. Burnett, the powerful Arkansas halfback, scored twice on two-yard plunges in the South's second-half surge in the nationally televised football game.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVES
When a school boasts 20 boys in the top four grades of high school can turn out 18 of them for basketball it's worth mentioning. But when these 18 supply the ideas behind the game, it's got to be nearly a miracle. And there is a miracle this year in Detroit.

With 41 en-rolled in the top four grades and the mark always around 40, Detroit has been through some years. A few years ago the Devils' first team had 38 players.

This year there already is some talk about Detroit and state championships. It is a large immature. One senior, a guard, is leading five meshes very well.

First it has the big scorer, a requisite that 78 per cent of all championship teams have had. It's Ron Knowles, of course. When it comes to scoring, he is a monster.

Coach Harold Stroud benched him in the other two quarters. Knowles, a junior, has a delicate touch and presents the jump shot classically, hold high and neatly wristed through the net. The 6-footer also rebounds very well, thus increasing his value.

On the other side of the basket is Byron Wells, a workhorse rebounder at 6-2. Knowles takes care of the rebounding. Wells handles the other side plus the middle of the rebounding triangle.

Not a great shot, Wells still is averaging 14 points on tips and rebound shots. He also shoots free throws well. The guards are Willis Anderson and Leon Dornier. Dornier being the only senior.

Anderson can score from the outside although he contents himself largely with layups. He is tireless on defense and can dribble well enough to handle most full-court presses.

Some say Anderson isn't 5-3. Coach Stroud notes "He's 5-2 or 5-3, nothing over it." But that's not the point. Anderson isn't 5-3. Anderson has nothing but A's on his academic record, too.

Dornier is a flutist scorer but defenses—well—he also will "snare" a few rebounds. Both can be credited as being good passers.

Coach Stroud is starting Mark Ostler at the other spot and Ostler fits in well. In that he follows the pattern well. Two young boys are being groomed for replacements.

Since Knowles has received headlines since he broke into the starting lineup there is a natural tendency for Devil backers to start putting emphasis on other players.

Knowles remains the "weekend horse." Detroit can't replace him as a rebounder or defender, neither can it replace him as a scorer. (But then neither could 26 other schools in the area if they had him).

But if Knowles had come along five years ago, he probably wouldn't have played with a winning team either. The other boys complement him beautifully and he does not let them down. A good estimate came Friday night when Bliss did a very good job in holding Knowles to 10 points. Bliss went a lot of time watching him and that helped take the pressure off Weiss, who can't shoot. Anderson, who got 13 and Mark Ostler, who added 11.

The Devils currently are undefeated. They have a good shot at the Northside title. Being young the players can be expected to improve a lot, although they all have considerable variety experience behind them.

Johnson, Texas A and L quarterback, threw two touchdown passes, hitting Jim Lindsey of Arkansas with an 11-yard scoring strike in the second quarter.

and losing five yards to Charles Casey of Florida in the third quarter that put the South in front to stay.

Gary Lane of Missouri had powered the North to an 18-7 halftime lead, throwing two touchdowns.

But the South, ignited by a pass interception by Doug Leone of Louisville, cut the gap to 18-14 in the first three minutes of the third quarter. After the South shot back, an interception by David Ray of Alabama with 48 seconds left clinched the victory for the Rebels.

The South boosted its lead in the series to 11-5, despite the record pass catching of Tulsa's Howard Twilley, who grabbed 12 passes for a Senior Bowl record, and was named the game's outstanding player.

Lane sent the North off to a flying start when he passed 37 yards to Oklahoma State's Tom Mitchell in the first quarter. Mitchell, a 13-year scoring strike when Bob Kowalkowski of Virginia grabbed it and tossed to Mitchell for the score.

Clay Will Meet Terrell Next, Vetoes Idea of London Match

CHICAGO (AP)—Cassius Clay said Saturday that his next heavyweight boxing title defense will be against Ernie Terrell, pooh-poohed the possibility of a match with England's Brian London and announced formation of a closed circuit television company with exclusive rights to his fights. Clay, at a news conference, said negotiations are under way for a title defense against Chicago's Ernie Terrell, recognized as champion by the World Boxing Association.

Clay said he would like to fight the three best possible men on the same night, taking them on in succession with a 15-minute rest between each, for my title. And after I beat them, I would think about retirement.

"But right now, Terrell seems to be the best of the bunch. He is short, fat, and slow, and I wouldn't gain anything by fighting him," Clay said.

Clay said the new television company would be formed with Mike Malitz of New York, a veteran in the business. "The company will be named Main-Box, Inc., and it will be one in which Negroes are not used just as fronts but as stockholders, officers and production and promotion agents," Clay said.

"It will include such internationally known athletes as the Cleveland Browns' Jim Brown and others outstanding in their fields."

"The company will handle closed-circuit television from my championship fights and other fights which I will help to promote."

There is the reported possibility that Clay will be "classified" by his Louisville draft board.

"I have not heard anything about such a classification," Clay said. "At any rate, I'm not rushing into getting more fights for any such reason as I might think I will be drafted."

Jaracz Paces Kentucky Win
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gainesville Thad Jaracz paced Kentucky to a 104-54 Southeastern Conference basketball victory over Florida Saturday. It was the 10th straight victory for the second-ranked Wildcats.

Jaracz ran up 17 points, mostly by underhand shooting. He first half and pushed his total to 26 before he fouled out with a little more than six minutes left.

Yearney scored first and quickly widened the gap. Playing a controlled brand of ball in their first conference game, the Wildcats left the floor with a 40-28 halftime advantage.

Florida, behind Gary Keller, tried to close the gap in the second half. He scored 19 and took 16 rebounds, high for the game. Jim Ramsey was second high for Florida with 14 points.

Nine-Under Par 62 Sends Palmer Into L.A. Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Arnold Palmer turned the Los Angeles Open golf tournament into a shambles Saturday, blasting out a record-tying nine-under par 62 and a 54-hole score of 200-13 strokes under par. The fantastic round, in which Palmer put together a string of seven straight birdies, sent him into the final 18 holes Sunday.

Man Dies in Orange Bowl Boat Mishap

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A boating magazine writer was killed by his runaway boat and two others were injured in a separate mishap Saturday afternoon at the Orange Bowl endurance race started.

The race was immediately called off after the body of Hank Bowman, 34, a writer for Rudder magazine, was pulled from the water.

Bowman, who owned and operated a boat-leasing service at Solisbury, Bucks County, Pa., was flipped from his boat on a turn. The pilotless boat then spun around and hit the side of the race track.

Palmer began his fabulous run of birdies on the eighth hole when he let up until the 15th. He added his ninth birdie with the day with an eight-hole putt on the 15th green and got his par the remaining two holes.

He had one bad hole, a bogey five on the fifth.

Player Given Putter of Year Award

CHICAGO (AP)—Gary Player, who made 1965 the most personal success year of any one golfer since 1959, was named winner of the Putter of the Year Award Saturday by the Golf Writers Association of America.

The compact, 30-year-old South African professional, who is now with his wife and five children on the farm near Johannesburg, will be presented the trophy during the writers' annual luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City on Sunday.

Player was a runaway winner in the balloting with only Jack Nicklaus and Kathy Whitworth receiving other votes.

By winning the 1965 U.S. Open, Player joined Hogan and Zane Sarzan as the only golfers ever to win the National and British Opens, the PGA and the Masters. After taking the National Open in St. Louis last June, Player donated his entire purse of $25,000 to cancer relief and Junior.

His Putter of the Year Award was based mainly on his pressure putting, for years during the National Open, which he won by defeating Neil Pagnie of Australia in an 18-hole playoff.

Credit Card Bookmaking Is Uncovered

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The FBI said Saturday it had broken up a large "credit card" bookmaking operation with raids in nine cities.

FBI agents made simultaneous raids at five locations in Miami and at others in New York City, Jersey City, Baltimore, Huntington, W. Va., Baton Rouge, La., New Orleans, Cleveland and Oklahoma City.

During a 10-month period in 1965, the FBI said, 6,521 long distance calls were charged to these credit cards.

Raiders also searched the residence of Morton Kane of Miami and Martin Sklaroff, who was identified as an associate of Beckley.

The Miami operation, the FBI reported, was headed by Gilbert Lee Beckley, whose residence was searched for gambling and bookmaking records.

"Beckley's operation is known to have used telephone credit cards obtained in Tulsa, Kansas; St. Joseph, Mo.; and Chicago, Ill., and in electronic device known as a 'blue box'."

"This sophisticated instrument," the FBI said, "is attached to a telephone or telephone line and permits the holder to utilize the long distance network without being billed for the call."

Over 500 long distance calls were made from Hanna's phone, the FBI said, which were not recorded by the telephone company.

Also arrested was Nat Modell of New York City.

Other searches were reported made on operations of Charles Lakso, Cleveland; Herbert Kaufman, Baltimore; Eugene Nolan, Baton Rouge; Sam Di Biase, New Orleans; Joe Assad, Clarkdale, and other operations at Huntington and Jersey City.

GRANGE TO MEET

Scouts, Salmon, Constitution Compete for Consideration

BOISE (AP) — Boy Scouts, salmon and the Idaho Constitution will compete for consideration with reapportionment at a special session of the legislature next month, possibly beginning Feb. 12.

Only reapportionment is firmly set for legislative action. Gov. Don James has indicated other matters may not be so firm until the call for the session is issued.

The governor named six major issues proposed by Republican majority leaders at a conference last Tuesday. More have been suggested by Democrats.

An appropriation to prepare Farragut State Park for the 12th World Boy Scout Jamboree in 1967 is almost certain.

Development of Farragut beaches and a larger outdoor amphitheater are among projects needing funds.

A proposed memorial would ask that Idaho get an equal voice with Washington and Oregon in controlling migration of salmon and steelhead up the Columbia River and into Idaho. Salmon sports fishing was closed in all three states last year. Idaho officials said salmon were overfished commercially at the mouth of the Columbia.

Changing procedures for amending the constitution and constitutional changes in legislative procedures have been mentioned as items for session action.

Clarification of Idaho's gasoline tax law is proposed so Idaho will be able to collect gas taxes from federal contractors.

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled Idaho cannot tax gasoline sold by a Utah firm to the Nevada-Reactor Testing Station near Idaho Falls.

State attorneys believe a change in the law would permit such taxing when the gasoline is used by contractors' trucks and buses off the NRTS reservation.

Reconsideration of Idaho's new school bus regulation and of the new contractors licensing law has been urged at the session by Democrats.

The bus regulation requires drivers to stop only when a bus extends a stop sign showing students will cross the roadway. The new contractors licensing law is being challenged in court by a group of small contractors who claim it will put out of business those who cannot meet its provisions.

Two other potential session topics are adjusting sales tax reporting dates to ease bookkeeping, and appropriations required to match federal grants available since the 1965 regular session.

Official Sees No Reason For Concern

MALTA, Idaho (AP) — An official of the Snake River Power Association said Saturday there was no reason to contact Idaho Power Co. on negotiations for power to run a proposed titanium plant in southern Idaho.

Edwin C. Schlender of Malta, secretary, said major manufacturers know Washington, Oregon or Montana power costs are half of those in Idaho.

"The public record shows statements by Idaho Power itself that it cannot transmit power for new loads for electro-process industries," Schlender said.

Idaho Power expressed "complete surprise" Friday about reports that the State Commerce and Development Department is discussing with Titanium Metals Co. of New York power needed for the plant.

Those Pillars of Lawful Trial--All Jurors--See Their Duty, Then Do It

BY O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Feature Editor
They see their duty and they do it—some with reluctance, some with zeal and some because they have nothing else to do at the moment.

The "duty" is the time-honored American, and before the British, custom of sitting members of a body which arrives at a conclusion having to do with the guilt or innocence of a fellow citizen.

This could also include making the decision as to whether the declared wrong done to the citizen is worth, or is not worth compensation.

They call these duty do jurors. In Twin Falls County they trudge to the district court rooms in the Twin Falls courthouse with each new trial and there they look, listen and decide.

It is one job that even the lordly taxpayer cannot dominate. The rule is that these jurors are selected, by lot, from the registered voters of the district.

Position in life or the importance of the financial statement mean nothing at all.

After being drawn for duty the matter of release is entirely up to the judge or the lawyers or a combination of both.

Last term of district court—which ended just a short while before Christmas—was probably no different than those before Shaub, Sheriff James Benham and Harold Lancaster, county clerk—drew the 70 from the "hat." They were not blindfolded but they did not peek in advance.

These 70 were notified, by cer-

The moral is that if you do not want to serve, then just forget to vote. If your name drops from the registration lists you are in the clear.

But when you are on, you are on for the duration of the term. For the term following you will be given a reprieve and you will not have to return. For the term following that, you may be right back in again, if your name pops up.

Actually, serving on a district court panel, is interesting, to say the least. You meet a lot of

TWELVE CITIZENS — good and truthful — follow closely the testimony of a witness as they weigh evidence in a district court trial. This is probably the only picture ever taken of a district court jury in Twin Falls while a trial was in session. The presiding judge gave his permission after jury members were polled and gave their approval. The actual picture was made without their knowledge as a witness told his part of the story in question. Part of the agreement was that the jurors not be identified although one man admitted that it would be fine "because it will prove to my wife where I was." Jurors can remain in the "box" from a few hours to several days. Some are never called to serve. (Times-News photo)

PROSPECTIVE JURORS come from all walks of life. Selection is made from among registered voters. Being a taxpayer is not a requirement for jury duty. Unless the excuse is a good one—good enough to convince the judge that it is valid—men serve regardless of their likes or dislikes. A lively discussion on travel was under way when this picture was snapped. When court is recessed, prospective jurors retire to this room. (Times-News photo)

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT . . .

Like Bagpipe Music, Accent of Bonnie Scotland Identifies Charles Hopkins

He has the unmistakable accent of Bonnie Scotland and the words roll out in a pattern much like the music of the bagpipes—but now he is an American.

His name is Charles Hopkins and he is chief engineer at the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. He came to the United States about 18 years ago with his wife and first child. He likes what he has so he stayed.

Now his distinctive accent sets him apart from any crowd. He wears a kilt, a traditional Scottish garment, and he is known for his highland pipe music.

He has two daughters—Sandra, 14, was born in Twin Falls at the old Twin Falls County Hospital and she has accompanied all his desires and today, as the second youngest in a family of 10, he is a member of the United States Navy.

He was born in Scotland in a shipbuilding town and his relatives were engineers from his early years. As a boy his ambition was to travel, see the world, then settle down and raise a family.

He was born in Scotland in a shipbuilding town and his relatives were engineers from his early years. As a boy his ambition was to travel, see the world, then settle down and raise a family.

CHARLES HOPKINS

not really funny but we had to laugh.

At the end of the war they decided to come to America. Hopkins, his wife and the first daughter, two years old at the time, arrived in America and continued on to Chicago to visit brothers and sisters. That was 1946.

He, for some reason, longed to see the western part of the country and so they traveled on to Spokane. Washington, a community selected by pointing a finger at it. It was by chance.

He had no job and $35 in his pocket but he soon got a job as an engineering inspector for General Electric. He was well schooled in theory and practical work as well as a book learner.

He shipped out as a first class engineer on an oil tanker. It was not the Queen Elizabeth but it floated and moved. Before he was through he had visited eight ports like Hong Kong and Tokyo, bustling ones like New York and Long Beach, and strange ones like Honolulu and San Francisco.

Right now Hopkins can think of nowhere else he would want to live. He likes fishing, fishing and snow skiing and he finds them all right in this area. He is one of the members of the family are skiers.

Thelma, the oldest daughter, attended Idaho State University last year and is a student at the College of Southern Idaho. Twin Falls, this year, Sandra, 14, is in the ninth grade at the Robert Stuart Junior High. The family resides at 694 Cindy Drive.

Since coming to Twin Falls Hopkins has been active in community affairs including a stint as publicity chairman for the Red Cross.

He is also active in the Parent-Teacher Association, a member of the First Presbyterian Church. Hopkins likes the country, likes to fish and likes the people who live around here.

People like to hear his accent. It is so refreshingly different from the usual "move 'em out" of the cowboy heard hereabouts. He will never lose it—he just shares it as he likes.

These were dark days, but some were bright," he recalled. "Like the time my wife and I were sleeping under a dining room table, because the shelter was filled with water and the house was damaged."

"One of Hitler's bombs came sailing over and fell so close to the house that the results were feared from the chimney in a great, big poof. He practically buried us under that dinner at 5:45 p.m. Those stable and we stood, looking at a couple of minutes. It was

Freezing Doesn't Help Ulcers

CHICAGO (UPI)—If you've been thinking about gastric freezing for your ulcer, four Minnesota physicians suggest you forget it.

The four reported Friday in the Journal of the American Medical Association that nine out of 10 times it failed.

They said, "gastro-frezing didn't help a person's state of mind, but it didn't do much for his ulcer."

They found out that freezing actually does reduce the secretion of acid and pepsin in the stomach. But within six or eight weeks, the secretions are back to their old levels.

The best that Drs. Claude R. Hickey, Ernest Ruit, R. Duncan Subbarao and James E. Blatter, of the University of Minnesota Medical School and Minneapolis County General Hospital, could say about gastric freezing is that it helps for a little while.

Ryan was directing the kudos to Claudia Cardinale, who has played a demoniac in "The Professionals" that a European glamour queen can be as tough as any movie hero.

"On it, wasn't so bad," said the director, "in fact I enjoyed it. I love the desert, because I grew the language barrier. I'm right on the edge of the Sahara, so I am accustomed to the heat and the sand."

The twister, Logan 4136, had been fishing with a Soviet fish when it foundered in heavy seas Wednesday night.

Messages from Force radio stations were flashed to coast guardmen at Wick, Scotland. The telephone was how to break through the language barrier.

Wick telephoned the message to the coast guard at Lerwick 100 miles away. They were typed out by district officer William Newcombe, rushed them in his car to a mile to Lerwick.

The Soviet tanker Altus was taking on water there for the fishing fleet. The master of the Altus got in touch by radio with his commodore, who was trying to save the crew of the trawler. Then came the crunch. The Soviet fleet requested help and the Wick coast guard called the Royal Air Force Shackleton to drop flares over the sunken vessel.

Popular Psalm

NEW YORK (UPI)—The most popular portion of Holy Scriptures in every part of the world is the First Psalm, according to Dr. Eugene A. Nida, translation secretary of the American Bible Society, which is celebrating its 150th year of publishing, distributing and encouraging reading of the Bible.

Space Photos Are Better Than Maps

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If Gemini 5 astronauts L. Conrad Cooper and Charles Conrad should decide to become diamond prospectors, their eighth-space flight last August could give them an advantage over treasure hunters.

Dr. Paul Lowman of the space agency's Goddard Space Flight Center near Washington said Thursday some fine color photographs taken by the astronauts may turn out to be lucky break for South African diamond hunters.

Lowman reported at a National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) conference that Cooper and Conrad brought back 170 photographs from their mission. Many of them showed geographic details missing from the most up-to-date maps.

As an example, Lowman showed some shots of the great Namib Desert in South Africa, which is politically controlled by the Union of South Africa.

The Namib is a geologically complex region of sand dunes and 700-million-year-old rocks. The region is rich in copper and uranium.

For the benefit of prospectors, the South African government had prepared a geologic map of the region. Lowman used a 1965 version of this map to interpret the photographs.

Because of scale differences, the map should have showed things as much detail as the pictures. The opposite was true. The photographs revealed diamond distributions unknown to the mapmakers.

So the photos, Lowman suggested, should be of considerable economic importance to diamond prospectors.

They found out that freezing actually does reduce the secretion of acid and pepsin in the stomach. But within six or eight weeks, the secretions are back to their old levels.

The best that Drs. Claude R. Hickey, Ernest Ruit, R. Duncan Subbarao and James E. Blatter, of the University of Minnesota Medical School and Minneapolis County General Hospital, could say about gastric freezing is that it helps for a little while.

They found out that freezing actually does reduce the secretion of acid and pepsin in the stomach. But within six or eight weeks, the secretions are back to their old levels.

The best that Drs. Claude R. Hickey, Ernest Ruit, R. Duncan Subbarao and James E. Blatter, of the University of Minnesota Medical School and Minneapolis County General Hospital, could say about gastric freezing is that it helps for a little while.

Pistol-Packing Chaplain Serves Viet Nam Troops

BEN CAT, South Viet Nam's field chaplain, ministering to the Screaming Eagles in South Viet Nam's jungle war, is a good Christian. Most have settled in for themselves now. "Lately they are worried about their families if they get in to save souls and not to take lives."

So far, the chaplain says, he hasn't had to use either grenade or pistol.

Although most of them don't carry any arms in Viet Nam representing a reality in a war where a peaceful-seeming bit of jungle or rubber plantation can erupt in bloody hand-to-hand fighting without warning.

Those Pillars of Lawful Trial—Jury Members—See Their Duty, Then Do It

called and you take your seat in the jury box.

From then on, it is a contest between juror and lawyers to see if you stay there for that particular case or get to go home.

Where do a majority of the jurors think of the interrogation they are put through by the various lawyers? They think on that one, too. They think some of the cases which they are called to judge should never have reached court.

They are right, but under the law all cases must have their day, although in some cases the jury should never have dived.

It develops almost into a game of musical chairs. When a case is drawn, everyone else gives a big sigh of relief.

When your name is drawn you secretly hope one of the lawyers has or develops a great dislike for you. If he does he will get rid of you.

But all in all the jury panel gets to be like a great, big family. They report at the same time and are dismissed at the same time.

Those 12 who make up the final jury stick it out until all the evidence is in and until they have made up their collective minds.

In some instances, this can mean a week away from home, herded to a hotel to sleep at night and to restaurants to eat at meal time.

When you get on a jury you never talk about the case until you are locked in the jury room for the final decision.

After being locked in the jury room you cannot take home or road anything connected with the case. If you get a paper at all, the story of the case you are hearing has been cut out before the bailiff lets you have it.

You live in a little world all your own, without outside interference, and you, in reality, answer to no one. You are at the top of the heap.

In Twin Falls the pay for being a juror is $8 a shift, plus a dime a mile, one way, from your home to the courthouse.

And to add insult to injury, the federal and state government rules that this great big salary is taxable and must be reported as income.

Why don't you just stand up in the jury box and say in each case you have formed an opinion—yes, you think the accused person is innocent or guilty? It is because you have taken an oath to tell the truth. If that is the truth then you say it when the lawyer asks the question or you. If it is not the truth, but only a hunch, you get up and leave, then you do not say it.

to be whether jurors had any thing against people who drink of the confusion a prospective and then drive. This was one of the hard ones to answer and still had to be left looking slightly unbalanced.

Even physical condition gets into the act. One plaintiff complained of a sore back. Each prospective juror was asked if he (or she) had ever had such an injury.

From the answers given there were many wives who would have been shocked to learn that their husbands, in open court, had said their spouse had one.

The rather drab surroundings which exist in the Twin Falls county district courtroom bring forth many comments.

When it gets warm it is hard to stay awake. When you deliberate in the jury room the echo is so noticeable it sounds like your question is answered before you say it.

But it is still the United States at work. Not one juror would willingly change it. All they would change would be the steps along the way, not the result.

One of these steps apparently is going to be changed, for the benefit of the jurors, the plaintiffs and the defendants.

Officers of the 4th and 11th Judicial District Bar Association are taking steps which will result in publication of a "Handbook for Jurors."

Patented after one now in use by the 5th District Court.

It will be a case of knowing the law better than the judge.

Pocetello, it will clear up much of the confusion a prospective juror faces when he first gets into the jury box.

If adopted, it will be published and distributed as a service by the Board of County Commissioners.

It will explain the theory of justice by jury, will tell of the benefits of being a juror and just what is going on when a prospective juror is examined by a lawyer or the court.

It will explain the meaning of the juror's oath, the kinds of cases, the stages of the trial, the objections to evidence, just what is evidence, the conduct of the jurors during the trial, the conduct in the jury room, how to be excused from jury service and the meaning of the various terms which are used in the language of the court.

All in all, it will be a needed improvement in the 4th and 11th districts. It will eliminate much of the mystery and indecision connected with being "tapped" as a jury member and it will bring a better understanding between the lawyers, the judges and the jury members.

Just when this will all take place has not as yet been decided, but many on the jury panel have expressed the opinion that it "cannot come too soon."

It will be a case of knowing the law better than the judge.

ROBERT ALEXANDER, chairman of the public relations committee of the 4th and 11th Judicial Districts Bar Association, scans copy of handbook for jurors distributed in the Pocetello area. In understandable language, the book details the responsibilities of a jury member. The local bar association is backing adoption of a like book for distribution to prospective jurors in this area. ## French Engineers Plan Tidal Power Complex

DINARD, France (AP)—The first general idea of the tidal power complex will go into service next summer.

Harnessing the power of the tides has long been a dream of man. As early as the 12th century, residents along the Rance river, which were driven by the tides, the movement of the water in the Bristol Channel of England, and on the U.S.-Canadian border where the ocean spurts into Passamaquoddy Bay from the Bay of Fundy, have been tempting.

In the Bay of Fundy, the maximum spread between water level at high and low tides is about 50 feet. Plans were first drawn in 1919 for channeling these waters to produce electricity. Engineers and experts have quarreled through the decades over whether the project is economical.

A 1963 proposal by the United States called for 15 miles of dams to trap and control 50 billion cubic feet of sea water. Construction would last for 15 years and cost more than $1 billion. The plant would produce one million kilowatts of power during each hour of operation.

In all respects, the Passamaquoddy project dwarfs the Rance River plant. But in this case compactness was a virtue, and construction could profitably be undertaken on the Rance.

The Rance's emplacement is 2.5 miles from the open sea, so that it is sheltered from storms. The river bed is of granite, covered in places by sand and pebbles. Maximum depth of the river is 39.5 feet.

The estimated production of 84 million kilowatt hours of electricity represents less than 1/2 of one per cent of France's current consumption. Still, it would be enough to meet about two-thirds of the consumption of city like Marseille, with some 100,000 population.

The cost of the plant has been estimated at $100 million, about one-tenth the estimates for the Passamaquoddy project.

The Rance plant is being built because studies showed that it would be economical. This is not an experiment," said Louis Reynaud, chief engineer at the construction site.

When the project first was considered after World War II, it was just a pipe because the most advantageous equipment was not available. The generators then in use could utilize the movement of the water in only one direction.

The first need was for a turbine that would operate as the tide moved in, and again as the water swept out. This was accomplished by making the turbine blades reversible, using the same principle as jet engines for airplanes that can be reversed for use as brakes during landing.

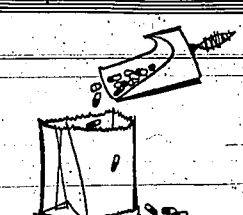

The power plant, looking like a giant multi-level concrete tunnel, will occupy only 1,200 feet of the total distance between the two banks of the estuary. A lock to permit passage of small craft will be built on the left bank.

With the Rance plant, operational stage, engineers have dreamed up an even more ambitious project. This would call for a dam of 13.7 miles across the sea at the junction of the Brittany and Normandy peninsulas. This would include the area of the Mont St. Michel monastery.

Such a project could produce an estimated one billion kilowatt hours of electricity. No has gone so far as to eat the cost.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

SUNDAY, Jan. 9—Born today, you are an extremely individual person—who would rather not follow any path at all if you have to follow the one used by everyone else. This is fine—so long as you are able to find, and not only desire, an original approach. If, however, you carry this attitude to its extreme, you may find that you are wasting whatever talents and abilities you possess.

Aggressive—though never to the point of being "pushy"—and more than a little determined to have things your own way, you are somewhat inclined to be impatient with those who place obstacles in your way. You would do better to be less concerned with the individuals involved, and more concerned with the obstacles themselves. It is, after all, the latter which you must overcome; in so doing, you will also overcome the former.

Relatively quick to take offense, you are at the same time extremely slow to forgive those who have offended you. Yet you yourself expect to be forgiven at the drop of an hat. Remember that what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander; the treatment you expect of others, the treatment you must be willing to give—both within and without the family circle.

To find out what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Hack Speaks Out on Use Of Colors

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Everybody knows there are colors that make some people restless and others that keep people peaceful. But Col. (P.) J. Hack, a color authority, thinks we should go much further in use of colors.

For example, he said, a large woman with plump face, ankles and hands should avoid black. Hack is chief of training aids for the Medical Field Service School at Ft. Sam Houston.

Color has applications in making a room do things for certain people, in making training or class sessions more successful, and in making certain medical areas more effective, Hack said.

If you want people to look at certain things, as in a lecture hall, you use color—a certain way. Hack said, in a lecture hall, for example, when you are using projected slides, red is the color of choice. Red is most visible in that situation.

Most people give certain shades a certain color, Hack said.

Most say the square is blue, the triangle white or yellow, the circle red and the oval violet," he said. "So, if other factors are equal, that would dictate what colors those things are in 'color'."

Colors even can make a sick woman look more ill, Hack said.

In a hospital, we would want any woman to have her bed backed up against a blue or green wall. When she puts on lipstick and rouge, and the red colors reflect against blue or green, that grays them. She looks sick."

In a classroom, three walls of soft colors and the wall behind events on boards and the teacher would lead students' attention to the teacher, Hack said.

Self-Warming Seat Uses Body Heat

CHICAGO (UPI)—A scientific principle of heat reflection originally utilized to supply a warming cushion for Arctic explorers is now providing comfort and convenience for Americans engaged in activities ranging from ice fishing to gardening.

The new self-warming seat cushion provides instant warmth from the user's own body heat, which is absorbed by the cellular foam material of the seat and immediately reflected back to the body.

The special cellular structure is covered on top by a cotton fabric that permits passage of heat and on the bottom by a vinyl material that prevents heat from escaping through the cushion.

The cushion (Kory Kushion), produced by the Spring Division of Borg-Warner, with its attached back, weighs only one pound and since it requires no outside source of power can be carried and used anywhere. It is safe, the manufacturer says, by skaters, skiers, campers, spectators at cold weather events, on boats, at the beach, and even as bedding for pets.

Twin Falls Youngster Goes Way Out For Rest—Breaks Both Legs Skiing

Betsy Summerfield will not be moving around much or going anywhere in particular for the next couple of months.

It can all be laid to the fact she likes winter sports—skiing in particular—and as a result is spending time at home because she had the unfortunate experience of breaking both legs in a mishap at Pomerelle.

Betsy, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Summerfield, 2086 Addison Ave. E., has both legs in full casts. The bones in both legs were broken just above the ankle.

At the time of the accident, ski patrolmen believed the girl had sprained her legs. The mishap occurred about noon and it was not until 7 p.m. that she was returned to Twin Falls and X-rays were taken. These X-rays disclosed both limbs were fractured.

Mrs. Summerfield said both breaks were "clean" and that she expected she will be walking again within six weeks or two months.

Right now the girl's greatest concern is keeping up with her studies. She is a student at Morningglade School. This, however, has been passed, with school officials cooperating. Betsy will be able to keep up with her class.

During times when lessons are not paramount, Betsy watches television on a set which has been placed in her bedroom. A wheelchair with a homemade wooden platform to support both legs while the girl is in a seated position is used for in-home transportation.

She will not be able to move with crutches because of the nature of the two breaks.

Like most people who have gone through a period in which their legs have been placed in casts, Betsy's greatest worry is "persistent itching."

"We have experimented a little and I believe we have this practically whipped," Mrs. Summerfield smiled.

One "instrument" used is a wide clothes hanger which has been straightened out so it will reach far down inside either cast. The other way is somewhat unique.

"We use a hair drier, put it on cold, and turn the breeze on the casts. The cool air seems to do the trick and retard the itching," Mrs. Summerfield points out.

New Recreation Setup Is Planned in Salmon Area

SALMON — A multi-million dollar Lost Trail recreation ski area is being proposed on the Idaho-Montana border.

Bid proposals will be received by the forest supervisor of the Bitterroot National Forest at Hamilton, Mont., until March 31.

Harold E. Andersen, Bitterroot Forest supervisor, said bids are being solicited from interested developers for a permit from the Bitterroot National Forest in Montana to plan a development.

The successful bidder would be issued a temporary permit extending for 18 months during which time he would do necessary planning work and prepare site and building plans acceptable to the Forest Service. When the plans are accepted, Andersen said, the bidder will be issued a term permit under which development may proceed.

"The new development must be a multi-million dollar undertaking to attract skiers from a nationwide area," Andersen said.

White Man's Occupancy of Land Is Main Cause of Mammal Extinction

By JIM HUNBIRD
Idaho Fish-Game Department
BOISE—During the millennium, lions will live down peacefully with lambs. This never has occurred in all the centuries because lions are predators and lambs, when available, are their natural foods.

Although not generally classed as a predator, man is the only flesh-eater that ever drove a species of bird of mammal to extinction and usually by habitat destruction—not through predation.

For example, white man has been in the Idaho country for about 150 years, while coyotes, cougar, deer, elk and bighorn sheep lived together here for 10,000 years before people started to worry about them.

Oddly enough, the only places in the state where bighorn sheep populations are left are in the remote crags and cliffs of the primitive areas where their natural enemies abound.

Bighorns now are extinct on the plains and in the foothills where they were driven out by white man's occupancy and use of the land.

General remarks such as these opened the subject of predator control for discussion at the annual Idaho Outfitters and Guides Convention at Lewiston.

The speaker was Roger Williams, chief of the game division of the Idaho Fish and Game Department, who made everyone know what he was talking about by declaring that a predator is any animal which lives by eating other animals.

He said the full gamut of all species involved as predators would include everything from dragon flies, shrews, robins and woodpeckers, right on up to tigers and polar bears.

For those that are classed as "man-eaters" in Idaho, Williams cited much literature based on studies dealing into the mechanics of predation affecting total populations; intensive food habitat studies; the economics of predation; analysis of methods and control programs; and relationships of control to populations and game management.

In general, the Idaho Fish and Game Department is reluctant to start a predator control campaign on the basis of a few isolated incidents.

He added that the current cougar research project being conducted by Maurice Hornocker in the Big Creek-Middle Fork area of the Salmon River is an example of this kind of study.

Such studies include predation as only part of the overall investigation. They cover practically everything imaginable from the ground up, says Williams.

They start with soil types and go right up through vegetation, climate and all manner of information that the scientists and trend of population, sex and age ratios, hunter harvests, carcass examinations and winter kills and so on.

Some modern studies use the experimental approach. Predators are controlled in one area and not in another, to determine what effect this has on game populations.

Williams' talk did not create a demand among the assembled outfitters and guides for the Fish-and-Game Department to begin restocking the ranges with cougars and coyotes.

But they did listen carefully to his recital of the significant amount of work that has been done on the subject, and the general pattern of conclusions developed out of the research—regardless of the predator species involved in any particular study.

1. Game populations are limited by the capacity of the habitat—food and cover.

2. Predation, along with hunting, old age, disease, accidents, starvation and the like, helps remove the temporary surplus of animals each year—but is not effective on populations within the capacity of the habitat.

3. Control of predators as a general program does not increase game and may even be detrimental to future carrying capacity.

4. Local control programs, applied to specific areas, is suggested in connection with transplanting of game to new ranges to protect small endangered populations; or where investment shows it is needed.

The cougar study now going on in the Middle Fork—Big Creek area of the Salmon River is just getting nicely started.

While Williams won't make any predictions as to what the results may be when it is completed, he does say that if it shows that predator control is needed for the benefit of big game, the Idaho Fish and Game Department will start a predator control program forthwith.

Mexican-Americans Disturbed, Ready To Act in Defense of Own Culture

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Mexican-Americans in California's largest minority group, are frustrated and some of them are as ready to act as the Negroes who rioted in Watts last summer.

They have the same reasons for stirring against the whites: they have shared with the Negro prejudices in employment and housing. They also have reasons of their own.

Philip Moniz, a 35-year-old Mexican American, says that Mexican-Americans customarily refer to other Negroes as "Angels." Even Negroes who share their minority problems, are considered alien.

"The Negro is Anglo in culture," says Moniz, a University of Southern California graduate and an education consultant.

"It is any wonder as we look around the Mexican-American community that the rates of anti-social behavior are so high?" he asked a state legislative committee.

"Yes, we lead in narcotics addiction, we lead in juvenile delinquency, we lead in illegitimate births, low income and any other social ill—that may confront a 'rejected group,'" he added.

If Mexican-Americans lead delinquency and crime lists, they come at the bottom of the scale educationally.

The average Mexican-American among the estimated two million in California has eight years and six months of education.

The Negro has 10 years and six months and the "Anglo" 12.1 years. More than a fifth of the Mexican-American population has less than a fourth grade education.

Mexican-American leaders believe that to understand the minority's problems—Angels must become aware of the cultural differences that exist between a Mexican-American child and a white child.

Philip Moniz tells the story graphically. He was born in Watts, now a predominantly Negro district of Los Angeles.

"I was 4 years old when I went to kindergarten," he said. "The teacher asked my name and I said, 'Felipe,' because my name is Felipe. It is Philip, I went home and told my mother. The teacher says my name is Philip, not Felipe. My mother shrugged her shoulders and said in Spanish, 'You got to go to school.'"

Four-fifths of all plans in the state for the year 1966-67 include life insurance, accident, death and dismemberment. Some benefits come singly but most are combined as part of a package.

There is evidence of growing interest in dental plans, a labor department spokesman said.

Some Parents Guaranteed to Fail At Child Raising: Reasons Detailed

NEW YORK (UPI)—Parents guaranteed to fail at child raising will say one or more of the following to a teenager during the new year:

"Isn't that nice of you to tell me 'all the kids are doing it'?"

"I just wouldn't know how to guide you if you didn't report what all the kids are doing. The child raising books aren't very clear."

"Turn off that studying, son. You're hitting the books too hard. Switch on 'Rock 'n' Roll' records. It's too quiet around here."

"Well, the teacher wants to see me about the fight you just legged started. You just tell her I know you're right and she's wrong. Why should I waste my time with a little knowledge like her?"

"You got a ticket for speeding, son? We'll try to fix it. Those cops make plenty of mistakes."

"Yes, son; now that you are 16, I agree that it's a good idea to marry Suz. You've been engaged a year and she's so much more mature now that she's turned 15."

"You're really convinced me. Your allowance is too skimpy. You know I'm not much for figures. Just tell me how much I should add to it."

"The vet gave your tongue-daughter? The last few times I tried to call home from the office I got right through and it really ought to hang on the phone more. It's good for you and it teaches me patience when I have to wait a long time when calling from the outside."

"Church boys know you that you're 14 and big enough to think for yourself? Okay, don't go. If you think it might be bad for you, you know best about those things."

"You say you found that transistor radio in the locker room? It's a candy radio. Now I got right through and it really ought to hang on the phone more. It's good for you and it teaches me patience when I have to wait a long time when calling from the outside."

"Now don't bother your pretty head about sidestepping parked cars, Janet. I know it wasn't your fault. The vet gave your tongue-daughter? ## Slight Rise Expected in Home Building for 1966

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Major demand base for new housing starts, may already have begun its long-awaited upward movement from the 1965 level.

The department cited other factors which the long run are likely to add to the demand for housing. These include the fact that the urban renewal and highway builder still is knocking down lots of houses and the housing-refugee situation is expected to provide additional federal stimulus.

But Congress has yet to appropriate any "building money" for "Federal Johnson" supplements—basically, a new construction program.

According to the Commerce Department, private and public housing starts in 1965 were 1,485,000 units, but still below the record set in 1959 and the high volume of 1963.

Housing starts and housing completions are expected to rise about two per cent next year. While that would be a modest gain compared to other years, construction, it would be better than 1965 when starts declined about four per cent and completions fell 10 per cent.

Costs held about even with 1964.

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHELL

SCALLOPED COIN is not English but rather is a 10 centesimi piece of Somalia, formerly a protectorate of Italy. It is now an "African Independent" republic.

COIN DATED 1950 is not Italian but rather is a 10 centesimi piece of Somalia, formerly a protectorate of Italy. It is now an "African Independent" republic.

We are receiving a great amount of mail concerning foreign coins. Since this column is limited as to space, please be patient and eventually your answer will appear.

First letter comes from Mrs. L. R. Gooding, and asks: "Can you tell me about a funny coin I have. It has edges that look like they are scalloped. It has a picture of King George VI on one side, the other side says 'Seychelles', 10 cents, with the date 1939. Is this coin English?"

Answer: No, it is not English. The coin you talk about (see illustration) is one of the few made by world mints in this odd shape. Seychelles is a group of 92 islands in the Indian Ocean, near Mauritius.

Since they are a British possession, their coinage bears the likeness of the extant British ruler. This "scalloped" appearance is used only on the 10 cent piece. Your coin is worth about two tenths of a cent, exchange value, but sells for 10 cents in new condition to collectors.

Question from Mr. D. L. W. Twin Falls: "I have a coin which has the picture of an elephant's head on one side, together with the name 'Somalia'. The other side has the words 'Roma' and '1950'. Is this the '10 Centesimi' I would judge from the 'Roma' that this is an Italian coin, but don't know what Somalia stands for. Can you clarify?"

Answer: This is not an Italian coin. (See illustration.) You have a ten centesimi piece of Somalia, formerly a protectorate of Italy. This is now an African independent republic, but their money has been in use for some years with the date 1950 in it, and the reference to Italy.

Exchange rate on the coin is about one thousandth of a cent, collector's value about 15 cents, brand new.

In answer to a question from Mrs. P. R. Zwin Falls: You are correct in assuming that some fifty cent pieces will still be made of silver, but the con- sideration is that the value of the new clad dimes should be making their appearance very shortly. Henceforth, quarters and dimes will be of this type; that is, a copper plate between two plates of nickel—while the 50 cent piece will retain some silver content.

Mrs. A. L. N., Twin Falls: Your coin is a 10 centesimi piece of the German Empire. This coin was issued from 1912 until 1918, and the design on the obverse (face) is the royal eagle of the house of Hohenzollern.

A great many of these coins found their way into the United States at the end of the first World War, brought back as souvenirs. Its value is negligible. In answer to your other question: the coin you describe is a 20-Filler piece of Hungary, issued from 1892 until 1914.

The designation of "Magyar" on the obverse side definitely identifies it with Hungary. The denomination was also struck in iron, due to the wartime shortage of nickel, in 1916. The coin, if in brand new condition, is man was taking his chances in those days. It was a heck of a good horse scarer, but nobody thought the car would be what it is today.

When the conversation drifted to presidents, Timm said, "No comment! Politics and I never met up very strong. They used to ask me to run for office and I would tell them that I'd rather run from it."

"I will say, though, that we should have followed the policy of walking softly and carrying a big stick. You wanted to know about the Monroe Doctrine, well, it was a good deal then and still is if we use it right."

Of medicine, he mused, "Too far back. It keeps me jumping. Just trying to keep up with things today. People lived and people died and they still do. One thing, you could call a doctor back then and he would come."

"Mentally ill people were pretty much let alone because they just let them ride along. I think surgery today is wonderful, but science will never reproduce human beings. The only one who could ever do that is the Great Creator."

Timm has this to say about the stock market crash and ensuing depression: "Supply and demand caused the crash and depression. Get top heavy one way or another and bang, there you are. It was just a natural succession of events and couldn't be avoided."

"We could have another one, because history repeats itself. They just call this a mild recession, but I don't think it's individuals, can run out of affairs in the hole the way we are doing and get away with it."

Next, he declared, "Advanced technology has not changed people. I think people are pretty much the same now as they were then. You will always have a few black sheep."

When asked about nuclear and biological weapons, Timm said, "I wish they had never been invented. Naturally, people take things seriously, but I don't think it has nearly as much effect on the way we live as people think."

"You can't change the thinking of individuals, but we won't achieve brotherhood as long as men until people change and I'm not sure what that will entail."

Timm's next comment was "This generation's strongest point is that they are finding out all they can about us as objects in the universe. I don't think this generation has the weakest point. I'd say that getting along with people is pretty darn good."

When discussing political matters, Timm said, "Politically we have changed just too darn much. We are getting too far away from the Constitu-

Lay Conference

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Council on the Ministry of the Laity in the World, jointly sponsored by the National Council of Churches will meet at the Edgewater Hotel here Jan. 13-18.

About 20 delegates from the United States, Canada and Latin America are expected to attend.

There, all depends on how involved we get.

In summing up the past 30 years, Timm said, "I wouldn't care to live them over again. Someone said me to be careful the other day and that would have been good advice 50 years ago. I lived the years the best I could and probably couldn't do better if there was a next time."

Timm then concluded by saying, "The past was a wonderful era for me, and the future, a challenge for the generations to come. To this and future generations I would say, Seek and ye shall find, ask and ye shall receive."

Harvard Astronomer Calls UFOs Natural Phenomenon

DENVER (UPI) — There are more than 50 "flying saucers," but they can be anything from sap bubbles to spider webs, according to the director of the Harvard College Observatory.

The unidentified flying objects (UFOs) are not spacecraft, but "some very peculiar reflections from natural objects."

Dr. Donald Menzel, one of the nation's leading astronomers, claimed that all sightings of "flying saucers" are really natural phenomena.

"If you want to—if you have a good enough imagination—it could take you out on any clear night and you can see flying saucers by the dozens," Menzel said.

Menzel, a 1920 graduate of the University of Denver, was back in town to support DU's alumni fund drive.

He said there is no evidence of exploration of each by men from other planets.

Some explanations of UFOs are sightings of strong ground lights reflecting from high-altitude weather balloons, planes, the pieces of foil carried aloft by wind, kites, ice crystals and "lenses of air" created by layers of cold air on top of warm air.

Bright stars seen through glass lenses appear larger, flash different colors and some times dart about in strange patterns, Menzel said.

"They are the most amazing things," Menzel said.

When asked about persons who claim to have spoken and ridden on spacecraft from other planets, Menzel said he would like to make a space reservation.

"Why don't they take a leading scientist for a ride?"

Welcome Centers Show Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — States are turning increasing attention to welcome centers as a means of inducing visitors to stay longer, according to the American Automobile Association, which cites five such centers in Georgia which hand out free soft drinks and peanuts along with information about the state's attractions.

A sixth Georgia welcome center is being built. The five in operation drew more than 60,000 travelers a month during the peak summer months in 1965, says state tourist director Phil Hardman, who predicts half a million motorists will stop at the centers this year.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

WINDOW SILL GREENHOUSE: To help some gardeners start their own ornamental plants, the USDA's service has an inexpensive method for rooting their own cuttings. The method is nothing new, but is practiced widely by nurserymen and other plant specialists.

It consists of using plastic freezer bags. All you do is take some cuttings and mix it two parts to one part sand. Add water, enough to lightly squeeze a handful of the mixture so that it is a few drops of moisture will come out.

Put the sand-peat mixture in the plastic bag to make about four inches of rooting material. The bag should not have holes in it because the secret is to lock moisture inside. Now you're ready to start new plants. For starting cuttings, suggested time is about January and February. Garden flowers (Geraniums, Anemones, roses, etc.) any time from late May through mid-August. Flowering shrubs (forsythia, mockorange, viburnum, etc.) mid-June to mid-August. For starting broadleaved evergreens (holly, azaleas, camellias, etc.) mid-June to mid-August. For starting foliage plants (ivy, philodendron, Chinese evergreen, etc.) you can do it any time of the year.

Insert the cuttings in the sand-peat mixture, sprinkle lightly, then seal the top of the bag tightly with a rubber band, and place it on a northern window sill. Do not disturb until roots have had a chance to form.

AMERICAN BEAUTY: If you ask the "average" person the name of a red rose he'll say American Beauty. This is the rose people ask for when they go into a flower shop. Actually, the American Beauty is an old-time rose, replaced long ago by modern roses. American Beauty is the darling of the "gray nineties." It typifies the era when Lillian Russell reigned in the theater and Diamond Jim Brady dined and wined her and spent huge sums on her for roses. The American Beauty is a heavily perfumed rose with a shaded smoky carmine color. You won't find it listed in modern rose catalogs, but some firms which feature "Roses of Yesterday" still handle this old time beauty.

POINSETTIA: Why should poinsettia leaves turn yellow so soon after Christmas? Don't blame your florist. Blame it on hot dry rooms; dry soil; insufficient light or drafts. Keep the plant in a bright but sunless window, and make sure the soil is never allowed to go dry. Dry soils and a lack of light will cause yellowing of foliage, followed by shedding. Pink and white poinsettias last longer than red ones, but they should all get the same care. After the plants lose their color, place them in a cool bright window or a lighted cellar way and water them enough to keep the growth green. Then when winter weather rolls around, cut the plant top back and set the pot outdoors for a summer rest. We'll have more about this later.

CROWN OF THORN: This plant is not a cactus but a close relative of the Christmas poinsettia. Because it resembles a cactus, the plant is often treated like one, accounting for the fact that the leaves come on and drop off. Keeping this plant dry is one reason why the plant refuses to bloom indoors, and it's also one reason why the leaves drop. Soil should be well drained and kept moist. A dry soil or one constantly wet will cause the buds to blast or dry up. With proper care the crown of thorn should bloom much of the year.

CHERRY TOMATOES: Any home gardener who grows these novelties always finds the fruit in big demand. There are two cherry tomatoes. One's called Red Cherry, with large fruit the size of a half-dollar. The other Red Cherry is small, with fruit the size of a quarter. "Cherry" tomatoes (also called "cocktail" tomatoes) are easy to grow and what yields per plant. They are ideal to eat out of hand, for serving whole in salads, preserves, pickles and ornamental.

There are other small fruited tomatoes worth trying, such as the pear-shaped yellow (and red pear) and there's a Yellow Plum. The so-called "ground cherry" is something different. It's not a tomato. Fruit is small and yellow, borne in papery husks. All these small fruited tomatoes are excellent novelties for your home garden.

BIRD TROUBLES: A reader has come to this department for help. She has pure sunflowers to attract the "better" birds. "While the cardinals and jays do arrive, so do the pigeons," she writes. "They gorge themselves until all the food is depleted and pounding on the windows, rattling paper at us until they cause the pigeons to fly upwards a few feet, roost on the eaves and 'poor' at me." Is there a way to separate the pigeons from the cardinals and jays and make sure the soil is never allowed to go dry. Dry soils and a lack of light will

Rise in Passports

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Passport Office reports that it will have issued or renewed a record number of passports—235,000—last year. In 1965 when final figures for the year are in, this represents a 17 per cent increase over 1964.

Francis Knight, director of the office, predicts a "busy 1966" for the agency.

"good birds" in, please write and tell me. SLIPPED ROSES: Will roses suffer under a glass jar? Keep well over winter without extra protection? Usually the glass jars are all the protection the plants need during the winter months. They act like miniature greenhouses and trap enough heat inside to keep the cutting from winter killing. When spring rolls around, you can remove the glass jars and set the cuttings in a permanent spot. Meanwhile, don't worry about them if they're under glass now.

BIRDS OF PARADISE: Getting this one to bloom indoors takes a real green thumb, but it can be done. Grow the plant in a tub. Give it a cool, bright window in winter and a moderate amount of water. In summer place tub outdoors and it will reward you with blooms in late summer or early fall.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: C. D. at Glenn Ferry: "Last year (early summer) I raised some hybrid cucumbers in the back yard. The plants grew wonderfully, and we got more than 300 cukes from the vines. Toward the middle or end of the harvesting season the cucumbers had a bitter taste and were unfit to eat. Someone told us the soil needs something, another party says the vines lacked pollination and turned bitter, and others tell us that insects were responsible. Please tell us what we can do to prevent this from happening again next year."

First, let me say that nearly all cucumber varieties have a certain amount of bitterness. Yours started out well but later developed a bitter taste, and you can blame this on temperature changes. A sudden change in hotness or coldness will cause a buildup of the bitter chemical inside the fruit. Insects, lack of plant food or soil conditions have nothing to do with bitterness in cucumbers. Nor does pollination.

Your cucumbers were properly pollinated or you wouldn't have had the crop you did. With the extra yield you can get from hybrids my advice is to stick with them. Seed costs a bit more but this is offset by the extra yield you can get.

T. N. of Oakley: "I bought an average sized plant for two reasons: to eat and to start the seed for a fall plant. It was placed in a small jar of water four weeks ago. To date, nothing's happened. When I bought the avocado, the clerk said, 'I hope it's a female flower has a green protuberance or knob in the center surrounded by four white floral parts. The male flower has four yellow stamens (stamens) and does not have a center core of green.'

C.E. of Rockland: "I received a potted holly for Christmas, full of berries. Will it produce berries year after year when I plant it outdoors? We have holly outdoors but it does not bear. Any way to tell if it's male or female?"

Your potted holly will bear berries if it is crosspollinated by a male (your berried plant is a female). Your outdoor holly may be a male or a female (sounds like it's a male plant). Only female hollies bear berries. You can distinguish between a male and female holly at blossom time in May or early June. The

WITH SAMPLES!

SURE, THE SAMPLES
MIGHT HELP, IF PLACED IN THE RIGHT HANDS.
BESIDES, I'M A COFFEE
EXPERT. I
EVERY

THESE LISTARTS
THE GOOD GUYS HAVE NEVER SEEN ME AND I DON'T REALLY NEED A
DISGUISE TO WATCH
THEM, BUT I AM
CAUTIOUS!

SINCE THERE ARE TWO SIDES TO EVERY CAPER,
I WILL EXTRACT A FEE FOR FRUSTRATING
THEM!

SO LONG, VIC!
'BYE, LIBBY! I'LL
SEND YOU A POST-CARD FROM STARVOKIA!

STARVOKIA!
MAH!

THE POLICE STATE OF STARVOKIA SHOULD
PAY A GOOD BOUNTY FOR SPIES ON THE HOOF!

I WOULD LIKE TO COMMUNICATE AT-ONCE WITH THE MINISTER
OF POLICE, MY GOOD
MAN! I AM SIR HARRY VULGARIAN, AN OLD FRIEND!

HIS EXCELLENCY
IS HERE AT THE AIRPORT, COMRADE!
HE IS LOOKING FOR SPIES FROM AMERICA!

FROM PAST DEALINGS,
SIR HARRY, I KNOW
YOU DO NOT VOLUN-TEER INFORMATION!

BUT IF YOU HAVE EVIDENCE TO EXPOSE
A SPY, I WILL PAY A SUBSTANTIAL FEE!

EVIDENCE? YOU
NEVER BOTHERED
GETTING IT BEFORE!
IT SOUNDS LIKE A BID
FOR FREE SERVICE!

WE MUST PROTECT OUR IMAGE.
SIR HARRY - EVIDENCE
MAY BE EASILY MANU-FACTURED - BUT IT MUST BE DELIVERED SO THAT
WE CAN USE IT IN OUR
HATE-AMERICA CAMPAIGNS!

OF COURSE, BUT I SHALL ADD THE EXPENSE TO MY BILL!
